DETAILED ACTION

Drawings

1. Figure 6 and 7 should be designated by a legend such as --Prior Art-- because only that which is old is illustrated. See MPEP § 608.02(g). Corrected drawings in compliance with 37 CFR 1.121(d) are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. The replacement sheet(s) should be labeled "Replacement Sheet" in the page header (as per 37 CFR 1.84(c)) so as not to obstruct any portion of the drawing figures. If the changes are not accepted by the examiner, the applicant will be notified and informed of any required corrective action in the next Office action. The objection to the drawings will not be held in abeyance.

Claim Objections

2. Claim 5 is objected to because of the following informalities: There should be a colon after the word comprising. Appropriate correction is required.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

3. Claims 6, 8 and 9 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

Claim 6 recites the welding allowance in the first welding portion is higher than a welding allowance in the second welding portion. It is unclear what a welding allowance is as this term is not sufficiently defined in the specification. For examination purposes a larger welded area is assumed to be a larger welding allowance.

Claim 9 is rejected as containing the same defects of claim 6.

Claim 8 recites the limitation "the automatic transmission oil filter", "the upstream side of oil flow", "the filter element" and "the dust side of the filter element". There is insufficient antecedent basis for this limitation in the claim. For examination purposes claim 8 is assumed to depend from claim 7.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102 and 103

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

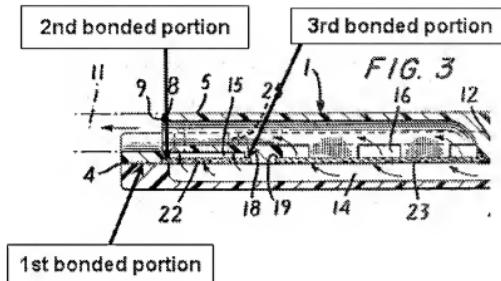

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

4. Claims 5-9 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as anticipated by or, in the alternative, under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as obvious over Rosenberg US 3 803 810.

Claim 5, Rosenberg teaches a case with a partitioning member comprising: a case (2), a cover (3) and a partitioning member (22) which is held between the case and the cover partitioning the interior of the case and the cover, characterized in that a second bonded portion (see below) in which the case and the partition member are bonded to each other is provided on the inside of a first bonded portion (see below) in which the case and the cover are bonded together, a third bonded portion (see below) in which the case and the partitioning member are welded to each other is provided on the inside of the second welding portion, and a hole (25) open to the atmosphere is provided in the case between the second bonded portion and the third bonded portion (fig. 3). Rosenberg teaches the partitioning member bonded to the case and the case and cover bonded to one another but does not teach the process of welding. "[E]ven though product-by-process claims are limited by and defined by the process, determination of patentability is based on the product itself. The patentability of a product does not depend on its method of production. If the product in the product-by-process claim is the same as or obvious from a product of the prior art, the claim is unpatentable even though the prior product was made by a different process." In re Thorpe, 227 USDQ 964 (1985). The bonding process of Rosenberg is taken to be a structural alternative to the welding process disclosed herein.

Claim 6, Rosenberg further teaches the bonding allowance in the first bonded portion of the case is higher than a bonding allowance in the second bonded portion of the case (fig. 3).

Claims 7 and 9, Rosenberg further teaches the partitioning member is a filter element. The recitation of the apparatus being an automatic transmission oil filter is a recitation of intended use and does not further structurally limit the apparatus.

Claim 8, Rosenberg further teaches the casing is divided into a dust side on the upstream side of the filter and a clean side on the downstream side by the filter element, and the second and third bonding portions are provided on the dust side of the filter element (fig. 3). The dust side being (15) and clean side (14).
